EPISODE 2: BRILLIANT

Mind Over Matter

The advancement of human intelligence took root in antiquity with the mathematical computations of our ancestors who put mind over matter and constructed architectural megaliths of the world like the Great Pyramids of Egypt and Solomon's Temple.

Ignited during the Age of Enlightenment, man's quest to harness the powers of the brain shaped the work of incredible men like Leonardo da Vinci and Galileo Galilei.

These forefathers of brilliance developed theories and invented devices that paved the way to unlocking our minds potential and leading us to breakthrough developments in cognitive science and neuro-technology.

Genesis

- 2560 BCE - The Great Pyramid of Giza, built for Pharaoh Kufu, is heralded as one of the seven wonders of the ancient world and the first evidence of architectural constructing conforming to the equation pi and the golden mean.
- 1498 AD - Leonardo da Vinci's The Codex Atlanticus, The Codex Arundel and The Codex Leceister (1452-1519) outline major theories on human anatomy, biomechanics, weapons of war and flight.
- 1623 AD - Galileo Galilee's (1564-1642) The Little Balance, The Starry Messenger, and The Assayer, coupled with his invention of the telescope, position our place within the cosmos and direct the future of scientific study.

Revolution

- 1930 AD - Warren McCulloch and Walter Pitts theorizes the organization of the principles of the mind, developing the first variants of what is now known as artificial neural networks.
- 1972 AD - Dr. Cornelius E. Giurgiu coins the word nootropics setting off a wave of developments in 'smart drugs' like memory enhancers, brain stimulants, dopamines for mental health and anti-depressants.

Evolution

- 1922 AD - Vladimir Vernadsky and Pierre Teilhard de Chardin introduce the concept of the noosphere; a future where humankind will create resources through the transmutation of elements, essentially creating a 'global human consciousness'.

EPISODE 3: INVINCIBLE

Gods Among Men

Ever since mystical inventor Yan-Shi presented King Mu of ancient China (10th Century BC) his mechanical humanlike handiwork known as The Automoton, the drive to design machines in our own likeness has been in overdrive.

Throughout antiquity we find countless descriptions of strange yet complex robots coming to life for the distinct purpose of serving man's every need. At the New York World's Fair (1939) Westinghouse shocked the world with the debut of their humanoid Electro, sealing the awe of artificial intelligence into the hearts and minds of the public.

Since then, visionaries in science fiction, engineering, and space technology have paved the way for the future of robotics; machines that think for themselves and are indistinguishable from their makers.

1160 AD - Japanese Master Taira no Kiyamori leads his clan of fierce martial artists to victory over the Minamoto in the Heiji Rebellion overthrowing the central government and establishing the Samurai as the most lethal and powerful force on earth.

1935 AD - Nazi Dictator Adolf Hitler initiates The Lebensborn Program which breeds a staggering 25,000+ so called 'pure' children in a failed attempt to create the perfect human and ultimate Aryan Supersoldier

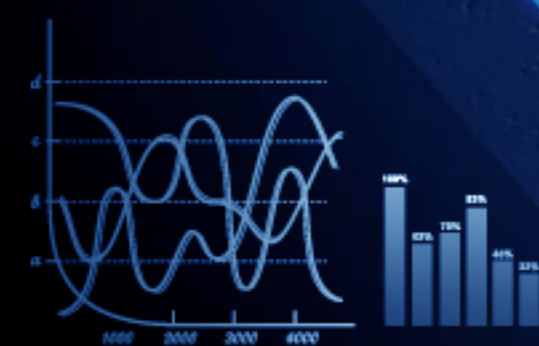

Revolution

1942 D - The US Navy establishes the Amphibious Scout and Raider School during World War II, which leads to the creation of the modern day Navy Seals Program with the focus of training the ultimate soldier.

1949 D - The Israeli Military establishes the Mossad Institute for Intelligence and Special Operations and develops elite warrior training programs that go on to carry out some of the most infamous Black Ops missions in history

Evolution

2011 AD - DARPA's (Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency, 1958) initiates their top secret Super Soldier Program in an aim to create biologically and technically superior soldiers and a synthetic police force through genetic engineering and advanced cybernetics.

1939 AD - Westinghouse unveils their humanoid Electro at the New York World's Fair that could walk by voice command, speak over 700 words, blow up balloons, distinguish color and even smoke cigarettes.

1950 AD - Isaac Asimov completes his positronic fiction robot series, I, Robot (1950) establishing The Three Laws of Robotics, and inspiring the next generation of cybernetic research.

Revolution

1953 AD - George Boole develops symbolic logic, the basic software language still used in all modern day robotics.

2000 AD - Honda unveils the world's most advanced humanoid robot ASIMO who can walk, run, climb stairs, turn, and grasp objects with humanlike precision as well as respond to voice commands, recognize faces, and even map his environment and register stationary objects.

Evolution

2013 AD - RoboCup, an annual event held in the Netherlands, premieres the very latest in cybernetics and artificial intelligence research & development. Companies from all over the world compete to propel this field of study toward its ultimate and final destination; robots that think for themselves.

SHOULD THE LAWS THAT GOVERN HUMANITY SERVE AS A TEMPLATE FOR PROGRAMMING ROBOTIC BEHAVIOR MODELS?

WILL IT BE POSSIBLE FOR A MACHINE TO ONE DAY THINK, REASON AND EVEN FEEL FOR ITSELF?

EPISODE 5: PHANTASMIC

Deus ex Machina

The concept of transporting to worlds other than your own is literally as old as art and the stage. The development of modern augmented reality began over half a century ago with the creation of the Sensorama (1950) by cinematographer Morton Heilig.

But it wasn't until 1984 when Michael McGreevy developed the HCI (Human Computer Interface) that the term 'virtual reality' was coined and the possibilities of this incredible technology took the world by storm.

Ever since, virtual reality systems have found a wide variety of uses for the military, entertainment, space travel, medical and gaming industries.

Genesis
1454 BCE - Greek Philosopher Aristotle criticizes the state of unreality in use during Greek plays by such tragedians as Sophocles by method of deus ex machina (translated as 'god from the machine') to solve the story problems of their characters.
1515 AD - Italian architect and painter Baldassare Tommaso Peruzzi creates the Sala delle Prospettive, the worlds first virtual reality cyclorama that allow the viewers in the room to feel like they were standing on an open air terrace, overlooking a continuous landscape.
1950 AD - Cinematographer Morton Heilig creates his Sensorama, the first 'Experience Theater' that engaged the viewers four senses of sight, sound, smell and touch.

Revolution
2003 AD - Linden Lab, a virtual reality company launches Second Life, an online virtual world that allows users to interact with each other as avatars to explore the 3D universe, meet friends, build and maintain relationships, even have jobs, go shopping and pay bills.
1991 AD - MIT Graduate Antonio Medina designs a virtual reality system for NASA's Mars Rover Program, allowing them to pilot the rover in real time regardless of the delay between Earth-Mars-Earth signals.

Evolution
2009 AD - James Cameron's Avatar releases in 3D, sparking global praise and popularizing the ongoing trend in filmmaking and virtual reality research for the development of life-like virtual worlds for gaming, military, space and entertainment applications. The demand for 4D and 5D (3 dimensions with physical effects) makes its way to labs all over the world for implementation in the holographic worlds of the future.

EPISODE 6: BINARY

The Doppelgangers

The subject of cloning has been a hot topic of debate since the beginning of known civilization.

From the Sumerian Epic of Gilgamesh outlining in vivid detail the Annunaki's creation of Adam and Eve through DNA sequencing and hybrid cloning of man with extraterrestrials, to ancient accounts of mythological beasts and half-man / half-animal creatures, cloning has remained on the radar of human consciousness and continues to be studied, theorized and now realized through modern scientific methods.

Genesis

900 BCE - The Greek God Zeus, suspicious of insane god Ixion's lust of his wife Hera, creates a clone of her to seduce Ixion. This clone, Nephele, has sex with him and gives birth to Centaurus, the father of a race of half-man / half-horse creatures.

1849 AD - Austen Henry Layard discovers twelve tablets of the standard Epic of Gilgamesh in the Library of Ashurpinal in Ninevah detailing the Annunaki's creation of Enkidu (the first Adam), a hybrid clone half-man / half-god, in order to curb the atrocities being committed by their ruler Gilgamesh (2/3rds god, 1/3rd man) on the primitive people of earth.

2005 AD - The United Nations passes a non-binding declaration, United Nations Declaration on Human Cloning, calling for the ban of all forms of human cloning contrary to human dignity, which is adopted in eight countries.

Revolution

1996 AD - Ian Wilmut and Keith Campbell at the Roslin Institute successfully clone the first sheep, Dolly, proving that genetic material from a specific adult can be reprogrammed to grow an entirely new organism.

1997 AD - Clonaid, a human cloning company founded in the Bahamas claims to have successfully achieved immortality by cloning the world's first human, Eve. Despite sparking a worldwide ethical debate, Clonaid continues its practice and has since claimed to have produced over thirty human clones.

Evolution

2001 AD - Dr. Robert Lanza of Advanced Cell Technologies (ACT) leads a team that successfully clones the first human embryo for the purpose of creating embryonic stem cells, launching the future of cloning technologies in biology, neurology, and human organ farming.

EPISODE 7: ETERNAL

Genesis

700 BCE - King Raivata travels to meet the creator Brahma and upon his return is shocked to discover many ages had passed on Earth and everyone he knew and loved was long dead.

1895 AD - H.G. Wells publishes his epic novel, The Time Machine, accounting the story of a time traveler who builds a machine and travels forward to a fantastic utopian civilization in 802,401 AD. This work is widely credited with the popularization of the concept of a 'time machine'.

1957 AD - Hugh Everett III publishes his Many Worlds Interpretation that astounds the scientific community by refuting the age-old belief of reality being viewed as a single world, now indicating that the possibility of alternative histories and futures is real.

Revolution

1943 AD - The US Navy initiates Project Rainbow also referred as the Philadelphia Experiment where it is reported that they successfully transported the USS Eldridge through a time portal and back again, resulting in the death and/or insanity of most of the sailors on board.

2004 AD - Edwards Air Force Base conducts the world first physics study on teleportation and investigates the possibilities of transporting humans across space dimension or parallel universes by altering the properties of the space-time vacuum or by altering the space-time metric.

Evolution

2001 AD - Quantum Physicist David L. Anderson opens the Anderson Institute focusing on the study of space-time physics, which claims to have developed the world's first time warp generator capable of transporting humans either forward or backward in time. In support of his studies, he establishes the World Genesis Foundation, in conjunction with the United Nations, whose sole focus is to "leave no child without hope for the future" and to create opportunities for the moral, physical and intellectual development of youth.

Timeless

Time travel is, and has always been, on the cutting edge of human imagination.

From the strange account of King Raivata time travelling to meet Brahma in the Mahabharata or sailors getting stuck in a time warp during The Philadelphia Experiment to the fantastic voyage in H.G. Wells The Time Machine and the practical theories proposed by Einstein in his Theory of General Relativity, the human desire to transcend time and space has accelerated the research of practical applications to become a near reality.

EPISODE 8: CONVERGENT

The Fall of Man 2.0

Since the unification of ancient agricultural techniques to the merging of belief systems into monotheism, man has sought to enhance the powers of human improvement through both survivalist and spiritual convergence.

Throughout history, significant convergence has taken place in the fields of science and industry that have led to major shifts in the quality and longevity of people's lives.

Today, technology has played a vital role in the fusing our way of life with the inventions we create. With the development of artificial intelligence well under way, the possibility of a Singularity, the point where our technology surpasses our humanity, is not only a possibility, but a probability.

Genesis

325 AD - Roman Emperor Constantine organizes The First Council of Nicea, gathering over 1,800 bishops from around the world for the sole purpose of spiritual convergence by editing and condensing 1,000's of scriptures and belief systems into a twenty-four book cannon known as The Bible, and establishing Jesus Christ as the one and only true son of God.

1910 AD - Austrian Physicist Albert Einstein develops the Theory of General Relativity(1910), making history in the scientific community by being the first theory to accomplish scientific convergence through the unification and redefinition of classical mechanics and mathematics (Newton's Principia) with universal gravity and space-time, cementing his position forever as the 'father of modern physics'.

1860-1920 AD - The Second Industrial Revolution changes the lives of every man, woman and child on Earth with the fine tuning of a major transition to machine manufacturing and automation in the textile, transportation, iron making, chemical, food production, and energy industries that were innovated during first Industrial Revolution (1760-1840). Also known as the Age of Synergy, this revolution culminates to a significant industrial convergence through the implementation of the production line.

Revolution

2006 AD - Media Scholar Henry Jenkins authors a white paper studying our modern day social convergence, known as The Participatory Culture; a culture in which private persons no longer act as consumers only but have become contributors and producers to the materials they purchase. This enables humanity at large to collaborate, disseminate news and ideas, solve problems and connect with others who share similar goals and interests on a global scale.

2001 AD - Communications developer Dr. Hatim Zaghoul releases WIMAX technology through the WIMAX Forum, releasing a new connectivity technology that allows lightning fast broadband wireless data, telecommunications, and IPTV (Internet Protocol television) service to be deployed across cities and entire countries through a variety of devices; essentially causing a technological convergence across all media platforms.

Evolution

1950 AD - Mathematician John von Neumann proposes the concept of The Singularity; a theoretical emergence of a superintelligence as a by-product of spiritual, scientific, industrial, social and technological convergence causing a point at which all human affairs as we know them to no longer continue. Popularized by leading futurist Ray Kurzweil and science fiction author Vernor Vinge, The Singularity could unleash an artificial 'intelligence explosion', surpassing current human capabilities and could possibly occur as soon as 2030 AD.

AS SOCIETY BECOMES MORE COMPLEX AND MACHINES BECOME MORE INTELLIGENT, SHOULD WE LET OUR TECHNOLOGY MAKE MORE DECISIONS FOR US?

WILL CONVERGENT TECHNOLOGIES ERRADICATE GLOBAL PROBLEMS SUCH AS HUNGER, ECONOMICS, AND WAR?

IS THE SINGULARITY THE BIGGEST THREAT OR THE GREATEST OPPORTUNITY FOR THE FUTURE OF HUMANITY?

EPISODE 9: CELESTIAL

Chariots of the Gods

The subject of alien technology has found its way into the human lexicon for as far back as recorded history.

From the ancient Vimana's flying machines of Hindu folklore to The Twelve Tribes of Israel's nuclear powered Ark of the Covenant, the evidence of alien assistance in the development of human civilization is too great to dismiss.

Recently, great strides in technology like NASA's stealth cloaking devices, warp drive, and zero-point energy research have taken place shortly after breaking news of downed spacecraft. The world of tomorrow envisions new frontiers for human colonization through awe-inspiring designs for mega-scale engineering and space travel technologies.

Whether we accomplish these feats on our own or with help from our extraterrestrial cousins is a question it seems only the courageous few working on top-secret government projects can answer.

Locations

Genesis

1500 BCE - The ancient Sanskrit Vedas describe in great detail the Vimanas or 'Chariots of the Gods' flying machines used by the gods in a great war that resemble modern descriptions of alien spacecraft.

2400 BCE - The Book of Exodus recounts the legend of the Ark of the Covenant an otherworldly device carried by The Twelve Tribes of Israel into battle, decimating entire cities, instantly killing people who touched it, and causing nuclear fallout-like symptoms to anyone who came to close to it.

1950 AD - The US Air Force, shortly after reports of an alien spacecraft crashing in Roswell, New Mexico, develops stealth technology involving invisible or cloaked aircrafts.

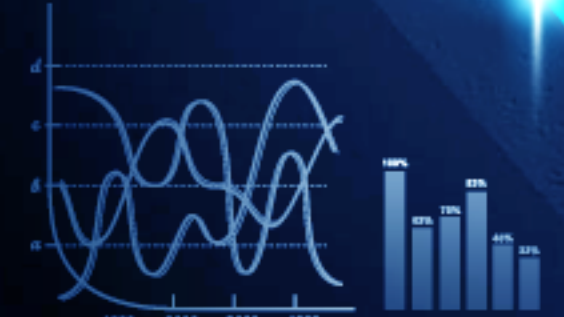

Revolution

1996-2002 AD - The US Government funds a Breakthrough Propulsion Physics Project with NASA to study revolutionary methods of spacecraft propulsion utilizing out-of-this world technologies like diametrical drive, Alcubierre drive (warp drive) and differential sails (zero-point energy).

2001 AD - Dr. Stephen Greer launches The Disclosure Project with a press conference at the National Press Club featuring twenty retired Air Force, Federal Aviation and Intelligence officer's testimonies of the existence of UFOs and the U.S. Government's involvement in reverse engineering of alien technology. This leads to the documentary Sirius (2013) recounting proof of this technology as well as the establishment of the SEAS Project (Space Energy Access Systems).

Evolution

1960 AD - Freeman Dyson theorizes the concept of a Dyson Sphere a mega scale engineering project to build in space to collect energy for from the sun for power and space travel. This led to modern concepts of the Dyson Shell, a human space habitat of immense size that could act as a second earth transportation device for mass colonization.

IS IT RIGHT TO SPEND BILLIONS OF DOLLARS TO EXPLORE SPACE RATHER THAN FIXING MAJOR PROBLEMS ON EARTH?

WILL THE EXISTENCE OF OTHER CIVILIZATIONS IN THE UNIVERSE AND THEIR TECHNOLOGY BE REVEALED IN OUR LIFETIME?

WHAT IF IT WERE REVEALED TOMORROW? HOW WOULD IT INFLUENCE HUMAN EVOLUTION?

EPISODE 10: TRANSCENDENT

Enter the Kingdom

The technique of ascension, literally translated on a spiritual level as 'entering heaven alive', has been widely documented by the Christian, Muslim, Jewish, Buddhists and Taoist faiths for thousands of years.

The reality of this technology recently made global headlines with the discovery of The God Particle in the Large Hadron Collider, the revival of ancient transcendence techniques such as Kunlun Nei Gung and the study of the mystical properties of ayahuasca by federally funded laboratories.

Today, movements toward achieving this state have been launched by organizations like The 2045 Initiative that seek to develop a way for humans to achieve ascension and technological immortality by the year 2045. With this research speeding up, the world of our future, it seems, may not be restricted to time, space, or physical limitations.

Genesis

320 BCE - The immortal avatar Mahavatar Babaji, father of Kundalini Yoga, attains self realization at the age of 11 in Sri Lanka, achieves his ascension, and makes physical appearances to many mystics and prophets on several documented occasions over the next 2,000 years.

33 AD - The Christian prophet Jesus Christ, after giving 'divine' instructions to his apostles, transcends time and space and ascends to heaven in a white cloud from the Mount of Olives in Bethany, just outside of Jerusalem. This takes place next to the Temple Mount: the site where the world expanded; man was created (Adam); the Temple of Solomon and Pagan Temples of Jupiter and Venus were built; Muhammad ascended to heaven, and where Abraham offered Isaac as a sacrifice to the gods.

16th Century AD - Christian Missionaries travel to South America and discover the Ayahuasca medically used among the indigenous Urarina tribes, who use it to transcend and travel to multiple dimensions of the spirit world. The psychoactive properties and effects are later studied by the McKenna Brothers and the federally funded Hoasca Project (1993)

Revolution

2001 AD - Taoist ascension guru Max Christenson begins teaching the 5,000-year-old Tibetan mystic transformation art of Kunlun Nei Gung, a practice where a human can achieve their Golden Dragon Body, transcend their physical limitations and ascend in and out of 3rd and 4th dimension space. Since then, he has taught the practice to over 10,000 people, with many of them claiming to have achieved this state of ascension consciousness.

2013 AD - The existence of the Higgs Boson, also known as The God Particle, is confirmed on March 14, 2013. This monumental discovery of a transcendent subatomic particle not only proves the origins of life but holds the key to understanding the properties of time, space and matter within our bodies and the universe.

Evolution

2011 AD - Russian Billionaire and media mogul Dmitry Itskov founds the 2045 Initiative with the sole purpose of achieving technological immortality by the year 2045. Since its inception over twenty-three leading scientists, entrepreneurs and spiritual leaders have joined the initiative and issued a joint open letter to the UN to form an Evolutionary Strategy for Humanity at the 2nd International Global Future 2045 Congressional Summit in June 2013.

SHOULD WE BE ALLOWED TO PLAY GOD AND TRANSCEND OUR PHYSICAL BODIES THROUGH TECHNOLOGICAL MEANS?
